Dear Lee,

It is with great pride that I congratulate and thank you for your outstanding sales achievement over the past year. You have distinguished yourself as a consummate professional, each year out performing your previous exceptional results.

Your efforts have won you the coveted "Founder's Award" and you have been placed in the Honour Role of our company and out of 181 top sales performers, you have placed in the top 10 of our company. This prestigious award is not an easy feat, while competing with the most professional sales people in our company. Since Bosley Real Estate Ltd. was founded in 1928, we have earned a sterling reputation serving successive generations with professionalism, integrity and a dedication to providing excellent quality service. Bosley ranks your professionalism, work ethic, diligence and knowledge in a category reserved for the elite of the real estate industry.

We have watched you tirelessly work on behalf of your clients dreams and investments. On behalf of the company, myself and your colleagues, I congratulate you on this achievement. Your clients both past, present and future are very fortunate to have you represent them.
